ARNOTT CAPITAL SELECTS IMAGINE SOFTWARE, INC TO MANAGE TRADING OPERATIONS OF NEW FUND

$25 Million Equity Long/Short Fund Utilizes Leading Edge Analytics and Risk Capabilities of Derivatives.com to Maximize Investment Returns

NEW YORK, November 29, 2005- Imagine Software, the leading provider of on-demand trading, portfolio, and risk management solutions for the global financial industry, announced today that Arnott Capital has selected the Derivatives.com platform to manage the trading requirements of its new hedge fund in real-time.

Arnott Capital is an Australian-based fund manager that launched its first equity long/short hedge fund on September 11, 2005 with $25 million in assets under management. The fund employs a range of trading strategies including equity long/short, credit arbitrage, capital structure arbitrage, and event driven. The founder of Arnott Capital, Mr. Kenny Arnott, was formally at Macquarie Bank and is a well-respected practitioner in the financial markets.

With the launch of its equity long/short hedge fund in the competitive Asian equity markets, Arnott Capital recognized the need to implement a market-proven on-demand platform to maximize investment returns and achieve operational efficiency. Derivatives.com allows the fund manager to analyze and execute its investment strategies in real-time, including strategies that include complex security types. Complete with comprehensive portfolio management controls, and leading-edge scenario and sensitivity analyses, the platform allows Arnott Capital to be prepared for market changes before they occur.

"Arnott Capital selected the Derivatives.com platform because it enables our management team to manage our trading operations, satisfy our responsibilities to investors, comply with applicable regulations, and address unexpected market events," said Kenny Arnott. "It provides us with optimal levels of control and security over our trading portfolio through its thorough analytics, including real-time credit limits, historical VaR, and Monte Carlo simulations."

The on-demand platform allows Arnott Capital to focus solely on its core business of achieving superior investment returns. Derivatives.com provides the fund manager with an internet-based infrastructure that efficiently scales, and reduces its human resources, and systems and data costs. Derivatives.com drives Straight Through Processing between the fund's trading operations, prime brokers, and fund administrator through FIX Protocol, and automates Arnott Capital's end of day processes, corporate actions, and holdings management.

"We are delighted to be selected by Arnott Capital as a long-term technology partner to support the fund's growth in the increasingly competitive Asian financial markets," said Steven Harrison, president of Imagine Software. "We have been supporting the operations of various investment management companies in the Asia/Pacific region for a number of years, and look forward to supporting the rapidly growing needs of our customers."

Imagine continues to be the only derivatives trading and risk management vendor that offers a complete on-demand platform, providing the benefits of software on demand, comprehensive market data, and processing services.
